

"HEY, I CARE ABOUT YOU" By Asha Noel Iyer

V. 1

Can't think of the words,
Can't think of the song,
So I sing to my cat,
Since these words just seem wrong,

V. 2

Breathing a bit,
And drinking red wine,
Wondering what would be,
Crossing the line.

BRIDGE

Telling you your hazel eyes are magnificent to me,
Isn't really exactly what I mean.
Saying that your favorite book really shook my soul,
Doesn't have the power of this thing that dug the hole.
And even though you think Wings wrote "The Long and Winding Road",
I want to stand beside you as you make our morning espresso.

CHORUS

So why in all of that is it so treacherous to say,
Those five words that beat at me as I watch you walk away,
Wait, wait you!
Hey, I care about you.
I care about you.
I care about you.
I care about you.
I care about you.
5x
